Overview

Broadwater received an all-encompassing 2017 refit with completely new interior design in collaboration with “2010 Young Designer of the Year” Adam Voorhees. The light and airy interior features all new soft goods, carpeting, leathers, flooring and furniture. Entering this Feadship motor yacht from the formal entrance, on the starboard side, one will land at the formal foyer. Within the foyer, one will find a stunning spiral stairway that leads up to the bridge deck or down to the lower guest accommodations. The entire facade of the spiral stairs has an impressive metal finish manufactured by Neal Feay and inspired by the Japanese practice, omikujji, creating multiple layers of reflection, transparency and gradient coloring.

From the foyer area one can go aft to the formal dining and main salon or forward to the on-deck master and VIP cabins. Twelve guests comfortably sleep in six staterooms, with the new conversion of the owner's study to VIP Queen Cabin on main deck. The addition of her exterior gym with Technogym equipment and a massage area option makes for ultimate relaxation with many amenities. The sundeck features ample seating, complete wet bar, sunpads and Jacuzzi, making BROADWATER perfect for entertaining. On the swim platform one can enjoy all the water toys complete with a shower area. Just off the swim platform one will find a water sport staging area in the beach club arrangement offered in the lazarette.
